CHURCH DOG

ADVENTURE SERIES

Welcome to the playful and endearing adventures of Church Dog. Each story uses biblical foundations to teach moral lessons about real life issues that children face. While the books have Christian underpinnings, they promote universal values. The books are perfect for igniting conversations around subjects like bullying, grief, prejudice, forgiveness and fear. Equally important is the power of being kind, compassionate, and inclusive. Your little ones will love going on these humorous escapades with K'noot and his furry friends, while learning valuable lessons along the way.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

TRACY MATTES

Tracy Mattes has been part of the Olympic Family for more than 25 years. Her passion has always been to share the values of sport with young children. Mattes was Director of Global Programs for the World Olympians Association and served in nine Olympic Games in various capacities within the organization. She also worked for sport National Governing Body Foundations, including seven years as Executive Director for the USA Water Ski & Wake Sports Foundation. As a competitive athlete, Mattes specialized in the 400-meter hurdles, ranking 7th in the world and was inducted into three Halls of Fame. Tracy is now looking to further inspire the younger generation to embrace their unique value in the eyes of God, using a Christian Children's Book Series based on her own sweet pup K'noot.

Mattes' career has taken her to more than 74 countries around the world. In 2005, she was selected as a United Nations Special Representative specializing in the advancement of young children through the values of education and sport. This unique global perspective comes through in her writing. She also has worked as a news producer and editor at three NBC affiliates. In 2010, Mattes won one of the top prizes at the 28th Milan International FICTS Film Festival for her documentary film "The Power of Education through Sport" which she produced, edited and narrated. For her efforts as a world class athlete and her humanitarian work, Mattes was honored by being inducted into the World Sport Humanitarian Hall of Fame in 2009.
